STATINTL

Dear Jim:

Your note of October 10 arrived while I was taking a week off, the first in approximately eight months, and extremely welcome. I shall see what I can find out about your son, Dennis. If I need any further information about him, I shall call on you at once.

On my normal trips to the bank for the board meeting of the trust company each month, I have hoped I might have time to see you and some of my other associates. Being involved in a world-wide picture now more than ever in the past, it would be most interesting to me if we could get together once in awhile. If by any chance you are going to be in Washington, I hope you will not fail to look me up.

Kindest regards,

Walter Reid Wolf
